TOYS-R-BUST

O.S.M.D.: Awaken to your world turned into toys and choose one of many available parody toys to play as while you follow the clues, solve the puzzles and fight your way through a world of psychotic toys to find a way to restore reality.

HOOK: You get to play as some of your favorite childhood toys, like (a parody version of) Transformers action figures, Barbie dolls, G.I. Joes, etc., and interact in a world made of toys; drive Hot-Wheels cars, use Nerf Guns, etc. The environments are completely interactive, like buildings made of Lego bricks that, when damaged, fall apart but can easily be pieced back together. The player's character and NPC's all fall apart when they take damage, but simply snap back together after a short time.

HIGH CONCEPT: Media: Digital.

Platform: PC (open to consoles).

Genre: Real-Time; single to multi-player; local to online; Action.

Epoch: Contemporary; Fantasy; toy-world.

Scope: Takes place in a free-range type toy-cityscape with mini-missions and side-quests that would take the player into more controlled, dungeon-style levels, like in a sewer, a shopping mall, etc.

Scale: Each unit represents itself as a single unit; time would pass in seconds and be measured or tracked in seconds, minutes, hours, days months and possibly even years; spaces would be conveyed in feet (which could appear as inches to the player as the whole world in made of toys that we are use to seeing as a couple of inches tall... here these toys are life-sized).

Perspective: adjustable to player's preference and type of weapon being used (some weapons, like a Nerf-sniper riffle, would require a first person point of view).

TARGET COSTUMER: Regular Gamers, toy fans, comedy/parody fans, youth-adult.

PROJECTED RATING: Everyone

KEY FEATURES:

- Play as your favorite toys!
- Fight your way through mobs of disgruntled toys, follow the clue and problem solve your way to saving the world!
- Interact with fully destructible and interactive environments like collapsible and constructible Lego buildings, Magnetix construction sites and amusement parks, and so much more!
- Connect to the internet to download new missions, new toys and more!
- Play multi-player cooperative or competitive with you friends at home or around the world!

FAMILIAR LIFE

O.S.M.D.: You are a Familiar; a much desired guide and companion to young, up and coming wizards and witches, and you will need to do your best to not only gain experience and powers for yourself but to also ensure the safety and advancement of your caretaker by assisting their studies in the arcane arts, fighting by their side in the magical world in which they live and making sure that they grow up to be among the most powerful magicians of this realm.

HOOK: Choose your familiar species; dog, cat, frog, bat, etc...; and server as Magician's assistant to one of many young and new additions to the magical world. During their studies they will need your help to hunt down ingredients, fight off magical opponents and protect them from all sorts of supernatural mishaps. The first game of its kind where the player gets to play INSIDE an RPG world as a supporting character, while the NPC's play the role-playing-game-style main plot. It is your magician's main story line that matters most: getting them to the top ranks in the magical community. Everything you do is to support that goal.

HIGH CONCEPT: Media: Digital.

Platform: PC (open to consoles).

Genre: Real-Time; single to multi-player; local to online; First-Person-RPG.

Epoch: Fictional-historical; Fantasy; magic-based, RPG world.

Scope: Plays in a RPG world, built similar to the most popular MMORPG's.

Scale: Each unit represents itself as a single unit; time would pass in seconds and be measured or tracked in seconds, minutes, hours, days months and possibly even years; spaces would be conveyed in inches and feet, since most familiars are just around a foot in size and some are even smaller.

Perspective: First-Person, from within first person point of view the player can see there body from the character's perspective (i.e.: look down and you see your feet, look back and you see your body and tail or whatever is back there).

TARGET COSTUMER: Regular Gamers, RPG'ers, Magic/Fantasy fans, youth-adult.

PROJECTED RATING: Everyone
